U. S. Officials Say Fourth Pay Round Will Be Granted

Washington, Nov. 12 (AP)—Predictions of a fourth—and final—round of postwar wage boosts came today from an administration official weighing prospects for labor peace during the new Truman term.

The policy shaper, who asked not to be quoted by name, said he looks for the pay increases to average between seven and 10 cents an hour.

But he qualified his final round forecast by pegging it to another—that living costs are about to level off.

If they do, he told a reporter, future wage talks will shift emphasis from prices to productivity. His contention is that only by boosting output can workers be sure of pushing their earnings upward, once their pay has caught up with prices.

Since the war, wages have gone up three times, by roughly 18 1/2, 15 and 11 cents an hour, with some fourth round increases of around 9 1/2 cents. These last, however, have not yet spread to the big, basic industries like steel and auto-making.

The administration labor official said preliminary plans being drafted for President Truman's study call for a "reasonable compromise" on labor legislation and a greatly strengthened labor department.

Zero Hour Is Nearing In Stevedore Strike

Chicago, Nov. 12 (AP)—Progressive Party leaders met today to adopt legislative and political programs for the coming year.

Henry A. Wallace, the party's unsuccessful candidate for president in last week's election, went into a huddle with state directors of the party and Wallace's campaign manager.

Tomorrow, a two-day session of the party's national committee will open with a report on the elections by C. B. Baldwin, secretary of the party and Wallace's campaign manager.

Baldwin said today the committee will discuss legislative campaigns for the 80th Congress and the various state legislatures. Other subjects of the meeting are organization plans for the labor, farm, women's and businessmen's divisions and participation in 1949 municipal elections.

"The party has made a good start," Baldwin said. "The light for the principles and program of Henry Wallace has just begun. Our strength is already felt throughout the nation, and it will grow."

Glen Taylor, Idaho senator and vice-presidential candidate in the recent election, is expected to attend the sessions.

The state directors' and committee sessions will be closed, but a party spokesman said Wallace's message will be released to the public.

During the general committee meeting, separate party division sessions will be held. At one of these, plans for a new labor drive will be discussed Saturday night, a spokesman said.

Albany Crews Vote to Join Walkout; May Spread to Gulf

New York, Nov. 12 (AP)—A message from President Truman will be read to delegates of striking east coast longshoremen this afternoon, a union official said today.

Joseph E. Ryan, president of the A.F.L. International Longshoremen's Association, said he did not know the contents of the message. He said it was written before the President went to Florida and prior to the walkout.

Ryan indicated that official announcement would be made at the delegates' meeting that the I.L.A. membership has voted against acceptance of a

Hanley to Undergo Removal of Eye

Operation Will Be Made as Soon as Condition Will Permit

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 12 (AP)—Acting Gov. Joe R. Hanley will undergo an operation for removal of his sightless right eye "as soon as his general condition warrants," Albany Hospital reported today.

An official of the hospital said the 72-year-old lieutenant governor was in "fair" condition. The official described as "very satisfactory" his progress in recovering from a slight attack of pneumonia.

Hanley was taken to the hospital Monday for treatment of acute glaucoma of the right eye, which has been sightless since last January. Glaucoma is a diseased condition marked by hardness and inelasticity of the eyeball resulting from excessive internal pressure.

Hanley's office disclosed yesterday he had developed pneumonia Wednesday, but that the condition had been "pretty well licked" through penicillin treatment.

Blast Wrecks Plant

Cairo, Nov. 12 (AP)—A mysterious blast wrecked a publishing plant in central Cairo this morning and police said rescue workers so far have dug out four dead and 29 wounded. The explosion, of undetermined origin, caused serious damage to the Societe Orientale de Publications, police said.

The plant, an advertising publishing concern, said a state of emergency was proclaimed in Cairo 10 minutes after the explosion.

G.O.P. Pledge Raises Hopes For Arms-for-Europe Plan

Washington, Nov. 12 (AP)—A new G.O.P. pledge to help friendly nations regain their feet defensively raised administration hopes today for Republican backing of the forthcoming arms-for-Europe plan.

In a declaration aimed pointedly at Moscow, Senator Vandenberg of Michigan put his fellow congressional Republicans on record—as nearly as any one man can—in favor of helping western Europe to defend itself.

The Michigan senator, who steps down in January as chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, told the Reserve Officers Association in Philadelphia last night:

"While neglecting prudent conservation of our own resources, we shall aid other friendly, independent nations to stand on their own feet in defense of their own freedom. Western civilization shall survive."

Vandenberg put this warning to

Tojo, Six of His Top Leaders, Will Hang; 16 Others Are Given Life Prison Terms

Mayor's Reasoning In Firemen's Suit Same as Court's

Newkirk Contends Power of Boards on Wages Subordinate to City Council

The reversal by the Appellate Division of State Supreme Court Justice Francis Bergan's decision on the firemen's pay suit "follows along the same reasoning that we have contended was a correct interpretation of the law," Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk said today.

The Appellate Division recognized that "the power of city boards to spend money must be subordinate to the budget-making powers of the Common Council or we have financial chaos," the mayor said.

The opinion, which was handed down Wednesday, upheld the right of the Common Council to decrease any item in the budget estimate furnished by the Board of Fire Commissioners and declared that the city treasurer was correct in refusing to sign the payroll in the increased amounts asked by the fire board. This decision nullified the order of August 2 by Justice Bergan that the treasurer must pay in accordance with the direction of the fire board so long as there is money in the fire fund.

Following is Mayor Newkirk's statement issued today on the recent decision:

"I have read the opinion very carefully and note that it follows along the same reasoning that we have contended was a correct interpretation of the law. We have consistently stated that what we were fighting for was a matter of principle very vital in the operation of our city government. The power of city boards to spend money must be subordinate to the budget-making powers of the Common Council or we have financial chaos. The court recognized this when it was made."

"The amount of the fund for purposes to be used by the Fire Board rests entirely in the discretion of the Common Council and from such fund the board may fix the salaries of the firemen. Since the Common Council and the mayor have the power by the charter to determine the estimate of any city board of the salaries of the members of the fire department within the amount of money appropriated and made available by the Common Council for the purposes of said board. Any other course pursued might result in an early bankruptcy of the funds of said city appropriated for the year and shackle the efficiency of different departments."

Two Cars Damaged

Two automobiles were slightly damaged in an accident on p. m. Thursday, the police reported. Patrolman James Burns and Earl Schoonmaker, who investigated, said this David Fier, 145 Erie Grove avenue, was pulling away from his parking space at the curb, when the left front fender and bumper of his automobile were damaged in collision with a car driven by Selon C. Myers of 38 Gill street. The Myers car received damage to its right front fender, police said. No injuries were reported.

Meeting on Prizes

The directors of the Ulster County Agricultural Society will make arrangements to send out premium checks totaling $5,856 at a special meeting at the Farm Bureau office tonight. The checks cover cash prizes won at the Ulster County Fair and Farmer's Field Day last August. Pratt Boice, treasurer of the Agricultural Society, requests that all those receiving checks deposit or cash them promptly. The society receives reimbursement from the state when the canceled check is submitted for the award made.

13,500 Are Idle

Detroit, Nov. 11 (AP)—A spreading work paralysis in Chrysler Corp. was affecting four plants and idling 13,500 men today. In a dispute over production rates Chrysler charged the C.I.O. United Auto Workers with contract violation in a "wildcat strike" and the union accused management of a "speed up." Strikes and layoffs followed a layoff discipline Monday for two machine operators whom management charged with refusing to meet the rates.

Smith Reaches Berlin

Berlin, Nov. 12 (AP)—Walter Bedell Smith, U. S. ambassador to the Soviet Union, arrived from Moscow today in his personal plane. Smith said he intended to remain here a day or two on personal business and then fly to Paris before returning to Moscow. He is accompanied by Mrs. Smith.

Nationalists Rout 9 Red Groups At Canal in Huge Suchow Battle

U. S. Delegate Says Reds Are Shrill in War Preparations

Osborn Says None Can Disarm Until Russia Stops Threats of Conflict

Paris, Nov. 12 (AP)—A United States delegate told the United Nations today Russia is using "shrill government-directed propaganda" to prepare its people for war.

The American, Frederick H. Osborn, told the General Assembly's political committee there can be no disarmament until Russia stops threatening the world with Communist aggression.

The committee is debating a Soviet proposal that the United States, Britain, France, Russia and China slash their armaments by one-third and outlaw the atomic bomb.

Osborn said Russia has 4,000,000 under arms and that Soviet-dominated states have an additional 2,800,000. This, he said adds up to 250 combat divisions, five times the combined forces of all the western European nations.

"Russia's policy since the end of World War II have not helped to bring about international confidence," he said.

He cited, among other things, Russia's "summary rejection of the neutral nations' plan for Berlin."

The American said that Russian workers are "kept in fear of war by the Soviet government," and that the Russian citizens hear only the news their government wants them to hear.

"There is some evidence, Osborn said, that some Russian leaders hold a warped, twisted view of conditions outside the Soviet Union."

He added that he wondered whether members of the Soviet Union's ruling Politburo actually believe that the western world is ready to attack Russia.

"I am reluctant to believe that is so," he said.

Improvement Seen

Even though their movements are restricted, Osborn said, U. S. representatives in Russia saw improvement there after the war.

"The improvement has slackened," he said, "because so much of Soviet production is going into war production."

"The Russian people don't want war," the American said.

Addressing Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky directly, Osborn said: "The people of the United States are the masters of their own destiny and the people of the United States want peace. They would not permit a war of aggression."

"Certainly after the events of last week, Mr. Vishinsky knows the American people can speak in free, unfettered elections."

He referred to President Truman's election and said the Russian people "have no such opportunity to choose their leaders."

When the Russian people gain this privilege, he added, it will be "a milestone in human progress."

Osborn, the U. S. delegation specialist on atomic questions, accused Russia of:

1. "Destroying the hopeful progress of representative governments in eastern Europe."
2. "The forcible annexation of territory."
3. "Obstruction of negotiations for peace treaties for Germany and Japan."
4. "Reflection of an atomic energy control plan which 46 nations found acceptable."
5. "Using 28 vetoes in the Security Council."
6. "Summary rejection of the neutral nations' compromise plan on Berlin."

Communists Reportedly Leave in Disorder With 37,000 Dead and Wounded Remaining; 20 Charges Repulsed

Nanking, Nov. 12 (AP)—Savage Nationalist attacks reportedly routed nine Red columns at the Grand Canal today in the mammoth Suchow battle.

The Communists, pro-government newspapers said, withdrew in disorder, leaving 37,000 dead and wounded. They had tried to sneak 135,000 Tsinan veterans across the canal for an attack on Suchow's left flank, 30 miles east of the government bastion.

(The Communist radio heard in Peiping, said the Reds were annihilating the Seventh National Army Corps east of Suchow and had cooped up the Second Army Corps west of the town. The Red radio said two National divisions went over to the Communists on Monday north of Suchow.)

The fight at the canal was bloody. The Nationalists were credited with turning back more than 20 Red charges. The Reds, reports said, were using what the Chinese call "human sea" tactics—waves of men charging almost shoulder to shoulder.

Automatic weapons and low flying strafing planes took a heavy toll.

The newspapers called it a major victory. But observers agreed that at best it might only delay the Red timetable by three weeks at most. The big battle of Suchow, largest in Asiatic history, is still to be decided.

More Than Million Committed

More than 1,000,000 combatants have been committed by the warring Chinese factions.

The Catholic newspaper, Yi Shih Pao, said President Chiang Kai-Shek flew to Suchow, 170 miles to the northwest, during the canal battle. This report was not confirmed. But it was obvious that the government was now throwing as many planes as possible into the struggle.

Foreign diplomats in Nanking generally expected Chiang to order the capital transferred southward in view of his decision to carry on what he calls his "eight years of war" against the Reds.

Several said, however, that such a move "must be made soon or no diplomats will be able to accompany it." They also critically viewed Nanking's future.

American dependents were leaving in U. S. Air Force and Marine transport planes operating from the same busy Nanking airfield used by Chinese war craft.

Five Nations Begin Secret Talks Upon Defense Treaty

St. Laurent Asks Security Pact to Include Two-Fold Plan of Cooperation

London, Nov. 12 (AP)—The five nations of the western European union began talk in a highly secret meeting today on a proposed North Atlantic defense treaty with the United States and Canada.

A French Foreign Office spokesman in Paris said France is proposing a 50-year agreement binding the U. S. and Canada to the alliance. There was neither confirmation nor denial here.

The nations in the western alliance are Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Louis St. Laurent, who became Canadian prime minister Monday, called last night for a North Atlantic security treaty to include both economic and military cooperation. Top western diplomats in Washington may try to decide next week whether to expand the proposed alliance to Italy, Portugal, Norway, Denmark, Iceland and Ireland, a Washington dispatch said.

The United States is expected to be asked to pay for rearming the alliance.

An informed diplomatic source said the five members of the alliance will start a draft today of western European views. All five are known to favor the plan in principle.

The representatives meeting here are members of the permanent committee of the alliance, which was formed at Brussels. The informant said work on drafting concrete alliance proposals is being started.

Discussions about an Atlantic treaty started in Washington last summer. Details have been obscured by a secrecy heavier than at any time since wartime operations planning. Both Washington and Ottawa reports said officials there expect a North Atlantic conference before Christmas.

Although the agenda of today's meeting was secret, informed sources said the representatives are drafting proposals mentioned by foreign ministers of the five powers in Paris last month. They announced at the time they were "in complete agreement" on the principle of a North Atlantic security alliance.

Meetings Are Scheduled

Paris, Nov. 12 (AP)—The United Nations has scheduled 243 meetings for the next month in an effort to complete the work of the current assembly.

Top Diplomats to Decide Soon on Defense Alliance

Washington, Nov. 12 (AP)—Top western diplomats will try to decide soon, perhaps next week, whether to expand the proposed Atlantic defense alliance from seven to at least 12 nations at the outset.

An answer to this question will be high on the program when the ambassadors from Britain, Canada, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg meet with Undersecretary of State Robert A. Lovett.

Behind closed doors, they will discuss specific plans for welding Europe's free nations into a giant defense belt supported by American arms and dollars.

If all goes well, invitations to join the alliance would then go out to the governments of Italy, Portugal, Norway, Denmark, Iceland and perhaps Ireland.

Countries accepting would be asked to send delegates to a full fledged defense conference some time in December. A formal alliance would be written at this

Total of 25 Convicted of War Crimes by 11 on Tribunal; Togo Gets 20 Years

Reaction Varied

Some Japanese Think Actions Too Easy, Some Express Sorrow

By RUSSELL BRINES

Tokyo, Nov. 12 (AP)—Death on the gallows was decreed today for Hideki Tojo, the cold, calculating Japanese who led his country to ruin in the world's bloodiest war, and six of his 24 top leaders.

Life imprisonment was meted out to 16 others, including the Marquis Kouchi Kido, close adviser to the emperor.

A seventeenth, Shigenori Togo, foreign minister at the time of the Pearl Harbor attack, drew 20 years in prison.

Aging, Peg-legged Mamoru Shigemitsu, the statesman who hobbled aboard the battleship Missouri to sign the surrender terms in Tokyo Bay, got seven years imprisonment.

An 11-nation court convicted all 25 defendants of war crimes. It sat for more than two and a half years. It took only 21 minutes to read the sentences.

Sir William Webb of Australia, president of the court, pronounced the sentences in a deathly silent and packed courtroom. Each was listed in separately and stood in an otherwise empty prisoner's dock to hear his sentence. Each attempted to subdue emotion, but varied reactions were noticeable.

Tojo took his death sentence with a wan smile. He bowed politely to the court as did most of the other men.

Seventy-four-year-old Gen. Hiro Minami, former war minister, seemed befuddled and surprised with his sentence of life imprisonment. Gen. Hiroshi Oshima, former ambassador to Germany, stood arrogantly as he was sentenced to life and stalked away without the polite bow.

Japanese greeted the sentences in varied ways. Some said they thought more would be handed and others said they were sorry for the defendants.

Petitions Date Set

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, allied occupation commander, set Nov. 19 as the deadline for petitions in behalf of the defendants to be submitted to him as reviewing officer of the tribunal's decision.

No date for the carrying out of the sentences was set.

A close guard was placed on all of the Japanese. Some said they might try to take their own lives.

Sentenced to hang were:

- Former Premier Tojo, known as The Razor during the war. The balding little man tried to commit suicide after the war. American blood plasma saved his life.
- Gen. Kenji Doihara, 64, the Japanese undercover expert in China and Manchuria. He was nicknamed "The Bird of Evil Omen" by the Chinese and helped to seat Henry Pu-Yi on the puppet throne of Manchuria.
- Former Premier Koki Hirota, a career man who was present at the pre-Pearl Harbor conference of former premiers when war plans were laid.
- Gen. Seishiro Itagaki, former war minister and ranking Kwangtung army officer at Mukden in the 1931 incident that started the Asiatic war.
- Gen. Heitaro Kimura, vice minister of war throughout Tojo's premiership.
- Gen. Iwane Matsui, who commanded Japanese troops in the rape of Nanking.
- Matsu Gets Life.
- Lt. Gen. Akira Muto, army chief of staff in the Philippines. Sentenced to life imprisonment.
- Gen. Sadao Araki, a veteran of the Russo-Japanese war and war minister during the Japanese conquest of Manchuria.
- Col. Kingoro Hashimoto, known to the world mainly as the commander of the artillery that fired on the British Gunboat Ladybird and shelled survivors of the bombed U. S. Gunboat Panay on the Yangtze in 1937.
- Field Marshal Shunroku Hata, commander in China.
- Baron Kiichiro Hiranuma, 82, former premier, eldest of the defendants and a powerful figure in Japan for more than a quarter of a century.
- Naoki Hoshino, Tojo's cabinet secretary and former financial expert who directed the fiscal affairs of Manchuria.
- Kinichi Kaya, former finance minister and head of the North China Development Company, organized to exploit conquered areas in China.
- Marquis Kouchi Kido, close adviser to Emperor Hirohito.
- Gen. Kuniaki Koiso, who succeeded Tojo as premier in 1944 and preached continuance of the war.
- Gen. Minami, former war minister.

Germans Protest Increasing Costs

Millions Stage One-Day Strike, Shops Are Closed

Frankfurt, Germany, Nov. 12 (AP)—A one-day strike by millions of Germans protesting the mounting cost of living virtually paralyzed the British and American zones today although some workers disregarded the strike call.

Hailing of street car service gave ordinarily teeming cities such as Hamburg and Frankfurt an almost deserted look.

Shops were closed, with iron gratings over the doors, except for food and milk stores which opened for two hours. Some other shop proprietors opened their doors optimistically but closed shortly afterward because few persons were on the streets.

The walkout left the Ruhr, industrial heart of Europe, idle for the first time since the war. The

O'Dwyer to Ask Rent Agency Get Back Authority

New York, Nov. 12 (AP)—Mayor William O'Dwyer plans to ask the new Congress to restore much of the Federal Rent Control Agency's former authority.

This was reported yesterday by the City Rent Commission in a statement saying that apartment house and hotel services have declined to a point that might imperil health and safety.

Prof. Maurice Finkelstein, commission chairman, said O'Dwyer conferred with him before leaving for a California vacation last week on the present housing and rent picture.

The mayor, Finkelstein said, plans to appeal to Congress when it convenes next year for enactment of measures that will:

1. Restore federal power to screen all applications for evictions of residential tenants, with strong restrictions protecting tenants.

2. Restore federal control of permanent hotel guest accommodations on the basis of current rentals, with federal control of evictions of dwellers in this classification.
3. Clarify the law with regard to maintenance of services in all residences, and enlarge federal facilities for enforcing this part of the law.
4. Restore criminal sanctions and the power of the federal agency to decrease or suspend rents for violations of its orders.

Grange May Support Repeal of Oleo Taxes

Portland, Me., Nov. 12 (AP)—Repeal of federal oleo taxes may get the Grange's support.

That would be a turn-about on the part of the big farm organization. It has sided with butter's champions in the protracted margarine-butter war.

Now, State Master C. P. Fay of South Carolina said last night, there's a "general feeling" for repeal in the organization, "providing, of course, means can be found to protect the consumer against fraudulent sales of margarine as butter."

Key is chairman of a special oleo committee that will report to the current national Grange convention here.

It was formed after margarine supporters failed, in the last congressional session, to get rid of the 10 cents a pound levy on colored margarine. The Grange fought repeal then.

Another committee member, State Master Harry B. Caldwell of North Carolina, said he thought the consumer could be protected by making sale of margarine as butter a violation of the Pure Food Laws.

The committee has members from butter states and from states producing soybeans and cottonseed—whose oils go into oleo.

Congressmen from these states, taking opposite sides on the issue in the last Congress, threatened farm bloc unity.

The Grange's legislative agent, J. C. Sanders, told the convention yesterday the controversy will undoubtedly come up again in the 81st Congress.

He urged an "up-to-date and definite" stand by the Grange, but didn't say what it should be.

Club Stove Explodes, Six Boys Are Injured

New York, Nov. 12 (AP)—Six boys ranging in age from eight to 18 were injured yesterday, one of them critically, as a result of clubhouse stove and toy bomb explosions.

Nine-year-old Henry Rizzo was injured seriously in a blast from an old stove he and four playmates had installed in their underground clubhouse.

The boys found the stove in a dump. Yesterday they fired it for the first time, and it exploded with a blast that threw the ten-foot square clubhouse roof 30 feet.

The boys didn't know that the stove, formerly used to heat water for a laundry, had water coils which had to be kept filled while the stove was lighted.

Rizzo's chums, all of whom received hospital treatment, were Kiernan, ten; Robert, 13; Bruce Miller, eight; and William Nickles, 10.

In Staten Island, Richard Geidel, 18, tried to make a toy bomb out of a six-inch lead pipe and a toy chemical set. The bomb blew up and he was treated at a hospital for a severely fractured left hand.

Opera Star 'Stabbed'

Pittsburgh, Nov. 12 (AP)—Metropolitan Opera star Raoul Jobin carried on in true theatrical tradition last night despite a wrist stab wound sustained during the third act of Carmen. Although bleeding from the wound inflicted accidentally by leading lady Gladys Swarthout, Jobin continued on stage but fainted as the curtain fell for the end of the act. Jobin, portraying the role of Don Jose, was stabbed during a "quarrel" with Miss Swarthout, playing Carmen. The audience of 3,800 in Syria Mosque was unaware of the incident. Jobin went to a hospital where five stitches were taken in his wrist.

Missing in Germany

Frankfurt, Germany, Nov. 12 (AP)—U. S. Army authorities said today a pretty American brunette employed by the counter-intelligence corps has been missing since October 27. Authorities said a wide search is being made throughout west Germany for the girl, identified as Lydia Biggs, 26, of Glenville, N. C. Officials said the girl had a two-day leave absence starting Wednesday, October 27, but telephoned her room mate she would not be back at work the following Monday. She also phoned her brother, Lt. John C. Briggs, in Nurnberg, saying she would not see him over the week-end as planned. There has been no clue as to what prompted her change of plans.

AFTER-ELECTION FORECAST
New York, N. Y., Nov. 12—I am back again in New York city to get the pulse. New York city is no longer the business center of the United States. This has long ago moved to the "Magic Circle," including the states of Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Texas, Oklahoma and Missouri. On the other hand, all merchants, manufacturers and bankers—wherever located—still go to New York city to buy their goods and sell their wares.

Everyone Pessimistic
Whatever the stock market may be doing when you read this column, let me tell you that New York feels bluer today than it has for many years. The people here believe that the Dow-Jones Industrial Averages will gradually now decline to 165 or under. This pessimism not only applies to the stock market, but to general business, agriculture and foreign affairs.

The big interests here not only expect no special favors from the Second Truman Administration, but they are "convinced" that they will actually be persecuted. They claim that the New Deal will take the place of the New Deal, and a businessman will again be abused just because he has been industrious, thrifty and successful. So far as I have been able to hear from friends throughout the country, this change in feeling for the worse is found everywhere.

Truman Opportunity
Most readers of this column little realize the powerful government "Corporations," commissions, boards and other organizations which were instituted under the Roosevelt regime. In fact, these semi-official bodies combined actually have more power than Congress itself. As Mr. Roosevelt arranged that the President should have the appointing power to the membership of all these bodies, Mr. Truman now goes in to office in his own right with the greatest power, opportunities and responsibilities that any administration has ever possessed.

What About Taxes and Labor?
The Budget will need to be greater during the next few years, but it is entirely possible that adjustments can be made so that this could be accompanied by tax readjustments. For instance, it is possible that with some relief from the double taxation of dividends, more money would come into the Treasury. If such relief comes about, it could help hold up good dividend-paying stocks. There will be no reduction in the capital gains provision; but no further excess profits taxes need be necessary unless we get into war.

New York city is no place to make a forecast on the labor situation. Very few people here are willing to take a broad-minded impartial view. My own feeling is that the New Truman Administration will try not to rock the boat one way or the other. It may ask for some correlation between increased wages and increased production. I know that Mr. Truman personally is interested in the "annual wage" idea, emphasizing the importance of "security" to the wageworker rather than "take home pay." However, the Taft-Hartley Act will be repealed or amended.

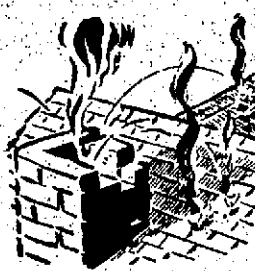

European Outlook Improving
Frankly, the election of last week here in the United States was much like the surprise election in England two years ago when the Labor Party there came into power. I doubt how long Mr. Marshall will continue as Secretary of State. General Marshall is a fine man, but he has never had previous experience negotiating. He has always been in a position where he could give orders and expect to have them obeyed. There will be other important cabinet changes.

The group that I worry about under the New Administration is

Livestock Will Get Plenty of Corn

Chicago, Nov. 12 (AP)—Corn today is fed to hogs with a shovel instead of a spoon. That's the opposite of last year at this time. And it's all right with hogs, which don't mind eating anytime they aren't sleeping.

Furthermore, the little pigs of next spring's crop are going to find living—and eating—just grand. In comparison with the number of animals to eat it, there's never been so much food around for livestock.

It isn't just hogs which will enjoy this increased feeding, cattle and poultry also will share in it. And, eventually, it will mean more food for humans.

By now, nearly everyone knows about the record-breaking corn crop. But there's a lot of oats, barley and sorghum grain. There probably will be a good supply of molasses—it's sprayed on coarse grains because then the livestock eat more of them.

The Agriculture Department today estimated "the total supply of all feed concentrates for the year which began in October is 23 per cent larger than the 1947-48 supply."

Substantial Increase

"The big supply of feed in relation to livestock probably will mean a substantial increase in total quantity of concentrates fed to livestock. This increase will result principally from increased feeding per animal, although livestock numbers may also increase somewhat."

Much lower prices already have made it more profitable to feed corn to livestock than sell it as grain, even though hog prices are slipping. The careful spooning out of corn last winter, following the short crop, is no longer necessary. In October, the Agriculture Department said, the average price received by farmers for each 100 pounds of live hog was equal to about 17.8 bushels of corn. This compared with the long-time October average of only 12.7 bushels.

Prices of dairy products are much higher than average in relation to feed prices. The department said in October dairymen fed their milk cows about 13 per cent more grain per cow than a year earlier, and about 10 per cent more than in 1946. Result: More milk per cow.

Eggs produced per hen in September, the department said, averaged about 8 per cent higher than last year, "and this also may be due partly to more liberal feeding per bird."

"At least as many cattle will be grain-fed this winter as last," the department added, "and the numbers of hogs and chickens are expected to increase in 1949."

Veteran, 42, Wins $33,000 in Contest

Chicago, Nov. 12 (AP)—James E. Nickerson, 42, Port Washington, N. Y., attorney, won the $33,000 first prize in a puzzle contest sponsored by the Disabled American Veterans National Service Foundation.

Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, national commander of the D.A.V., handed Nickerson the check yesterday.

Nickerson, accompanied by his wife, Kathleen, and their five-year-old daughter, Caroline, said he used encyclopedias, dictionaries, the Bible and even a mail-order catalog to solve the D.A.V. word contest.

"This is the first contest I ever entered. I considered it a most interesting challenge and was determined to work hard toward a solution," Nickerson said.

He said part of the money would be used to finance a family trip to visit his mother-in-law in New Zealand. The Nickersons reside at 49 Litchfield Road in Port Washington.

Contest sponsors said 280,000 contestants participated for 270 prizes totaling $51,265.00.

Brewery Truck Strike Is Ended

New York, Nov. 12 (AP)—New York city's month-long brewery truck drivers' strike has been settled and the beer drought is ended.

Rank-and file strikers voted at a stormy meeting last night to arbitrate their dispute with the breweries and return to work at once.

An agreement ratified by the strikers provided for dropping a stepped-up delivery schedule as a chief issue in the unauthorized strike.

A new formula for balancing the employer's complaint that the drivers and helpers do not work hard enough and the men's complaint that they have been over-worked will be sought by an arbitration board.

The arbitration agreement, which the 3,000 strikers accepted last night, was worked out yesterday at city hall with the aid of a city mediator.

In addition to dropping the disputed work schedule, the settlement provided:

1. All strikers will be reinstated without losing any benefits they enjoyed before the walk-out.

2. The employers, members of the Brewers Board of Trade, will drop a $8,275,000 suit they filed against the C.I.O. Brewery, Flour, Cereal, Soft Drink and Distillery Workers of America for damages allegedly caused by the strike.

The ratification ended the strike at seven major breweries and four distributing plants of out-of-town breweries. Twelve breweries originally were struck, but five settled individually at various times by agreeing to drop the new work schedule.

Woman Dies in Fire

New York, Nov. 12 (AP)—A widow was overcome by smoke and burned to death at 1 a. m. today in a fire in an apartment where she lived alone. The victim, Mrs. Catherine Duckfield, 55, of 59 La Salle street, struggled to a rear window and, collapsed over the sill. Other occupants of the six-story house smelled smoke and fled. The fire, of undetermined origin, was confined to the widow's apartment.

Women's Clubs Plan Comic Books Campaign

New York, Nov. 12 (AP)—The New York state Federation of Women's Clubs plan to campaign against comic books that stress crime and sex.

A copy of the resolution will be sent to Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American military governor in Germany. Its sponsors said it was prompted by news that Clay has approved admission of 10,000 comic books a month into Germany.

Mrs. George C. Porter, of Albany, federation historian, said in introducing the resolution:

"It is the block-booking and tie-in sales that are so serious. We assume that system applies to the books approved for Germany. No matter how innocently amusing most of them might be, the block-booking system requires a newsdealer to accept good and bad alike. The clubwomen are going to study legal methods of eliminating this block-booking system."

The convention received a telephone message from Henry E.

Schultz, executive director of the Association of Comic Magazine Publishers, that his group will co-operate with the clubwomen. He said officers of the association will attend a meeting in Washington, D. C., on Dec. 15 at headquarters of the general Federation of Women's Clubs to adopt a code of ethics for the industry acceptable to the clubwomen.

Mrs. William H. Golding, of Cobleskill, was elected federation president at the windup of the four-day 54th annual convention. She will serve a two-year term, succeeding Mrs. Kenneth S. Strayer, of New York city.

Fliers End Opportunity

Longview, Tex., Nov. 12 (AP)—The attempt of endurance fliers Fred Vinmont and Bert Simons to crack the world's record of 726 hours ended last night in a crash-landing. The two men had been in the air 529 hours when they were forced to come down about 11 p. m. (CST). Vinmont suffered a fractured nose in the landing. Both men were hurtled from the plane. Houston Dean, ground chief for the fliers, said the plane's engine "froze" at between 900 and 1,000 feet.

Police Seek Clues In Slaying After $13,000 Robbery

Hershey, Pa., Nov. 12 (AP)—State police turned to New York and Connecticut today for new clues in the roadside slaying of a man Sgt. Alfred Verbecken said has been linked to a $13,000 robbery.

Verbecken said the victim, found in a cow pasture near here Wednesday night with three bullet wounds in the back and ten $100 bills on his person, has been "positively identified" by Daniel Lamont, Altoona, Pa., sportsman, as one of two who held him up at his home early Wednesday.

Lamont came here to view the body after a letter, found on the man and written on stationery from an Altoona Hotel, led police to seek a possible connection to the robbery, Verbecken said.

Two men, one with a mask over his face, forced Lamont, owner of the racetrack, El Mono, to enter his home and open his safe at gunpoint.

The cash loot was in $100, $500 and $1,000 bills. A quantity of jewelry and several shares of stock also was taken.

Late last night, Verbecken said fingerprints of the victim were being checked with those of a James Longden, 33, of Bridgeport, Conn.

At Bridgeport, Detective Sgt. Walter Auger said that a James Longden had a police record in that city. Longden has a family living in Bridgeport, Auger said, adding that he left home four or five months ago.

A postcard found on the slain man gave police their first clue to his identity.

Verbecken said it was addressed to James Longden, care of a hotel (Penn Post) in New York city. The same name was signed to the register there and at the Altoona Hotel. The postcard was signed "Rhoda" and was postmarked Miami, Fla.

A check disclosed the woman's full name to be "Rhoda Gross" of Miami Beach, Fla., Verbecken said.

In Miami Beach, detectives said Miss Gross could offer little information about "Langdon."

She told police she met Langdon at Far Rockaway, N. Y., last August when he told her he was a chauffeur for a New York advertising man.

U. S. Delegate Says

"Is every evidence that the Soviet Union is actively trying to prevent the reconstruction and improvement of living conditions in Europe?"

He said Russia "is actively pursuing a policy of world revolution," while the United States is cooperating with western Europe in a program of reconstruction.

Julius Katz-Suchy, of Poland, told the committee Osborn's speech seemed to him like a declaration of a small town lawyer who accused a witness' grandfather of being seen drunk five years before.

Katz-Suchy accused the U. S. of running an armaments race and of building up a military empire for aggression.

"A program of rearming Germany as a basis for expansion is proceeding quickly," he said.

He quoted from the American press reports. He said they reported the U. S. had airbases from which it could strike at the principal centers in Russia.

He also accused the U. S. and Britain of violating the Yalta and Potsdam agreements.

McGrath Tries to Spur Democratic Policy Group

Key West, Fla., Nov. 12 (AP)—Three members of President Truman's top Democratic command interrupted their conferences with the Chief Executive today for a flying trip to Havana.

Senator Alben W. Barkley, the vice president-elect; Senator J. Howard McGrath, Democratic national chairman; and Leslie L. Biffle, director of the Senate Democratic Policy Committee, argued to be gone only a few hours, however.

McGrath flew here from Washington yesterday to step up the pace of discussions looking to a reorganization of the administration.

He would not comment on what recommendations he had in mind, but told reporters he believed the President would forgive the "venial" sins by Democratic officials, if they were not the "mortal" sins that "kill the soul."

He said he "welcomed" the support of "progressive Republicans" on Democratic legislative proposals.

Meanwhile, there was no White House comment on an assertion by Representative Boykin (D-Ala.) that President Truman had convinced him he would not impose civil rights legislation on the south.

Zero Hour . . .

wage agreement worked out by union leaders with shipping operators.

A complete tieup of shipping on the east and Gulf coasts is feared if the vote is against approval of the contract. The balloting was completed last night but the tabulation is being made today.

Ryan said Mr. Truman's message was given to Cyrus E. Ching, national director of the Federal Mediation Service, for delivery to the longshoremen in the event of a collapse in negotiations, the I.L.A. head said.

Zero Hour Nears

New York, Nov. 12 (AP)—The zero hour, feared today in a stevedores' strike that threatens to spread the length of the Atlantic seaboard and to the Gulf coast.

The bottling-up of virtually all American shipping on three coasts was feared, since western ports already are tied up by a maritime strike that began more than two months ago.

Ultimate scope of the east coast walkout, which to date has disrupted operations in several major ports, hinged on the final tally today of ballots by 65,000 longshoremen.

A union official predicted the vote will be against acceptance of a proposed wage settlement.

This, he said, would extend the waterfront shutdown from Portland, Me. to Hampton Roads, Va. and subsequently to south Atlantic and Gulf coast cities where workers have agreed to follow the lead of east coast dock hands.

Thousands of longshoremen already are idle in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, and Wilmington, Del., where locals of the A.E.L. International Longshoremen's Association already have rejected the proposed agreement.

Hundreds of stevedores in Albany, N. Y., on the upper Hudson river, voted last night to join the walkout.

The strike, which began here three days ago and snowballed from port to port, has immobilized scores of vessels. They have remained tied up at piers, with the owners unable to unload incoming cargoes or take on new ones.

Several other ships at sea have been rerouted to Halifax, Nova Scotia, because of the strike situation.

John J. Sampson, head of I.L.A. Local 191, said crews of tugboats and other small harbor craft, which haul vital food and fuel supplies to New York city, probably will quit work if the longshoremen's strike becomes complete.

Such a stoppage in 1946 led Mayor William O'Dwyer to call an emergency, and forced closing of theatres and many other establishments.

However, Joseph P. Ryan, I.L.A. international president, claimed the tugboat workers would not strike. He said, "There is no need to spread the strike to craft that are not affected by the proposed longshoremen's contract, which he and other union leaders negotiated, a 'fine agreement,' to the side rank-and-file workers when they struck Wednesday.

The proposed agreement calls for an increase in day-shift, straight-time pay from $1.75 to $1.85 an hour, and in the night and week-end overtime rate from $2.62 1/2 to $2.77 1/2.

Sampson denied reports that the New York strike situation resulted partly from a long-standing feud between him and Ryan. Sampson said the strike is "not a fight against Ryan personally but against the contract."

Demands of the longshoremen, as outlined by Sampson, are for an increase in straight-time pay to $2 an hour and in overtime pay to $3. He said they also want provisions for a welfare fund, a guarantee of a minimum of four hours work when called, and other benefits.

Ellenville Boy Is Shot; Taken To Local Hospital

Ellenville, Nov. 12 — Harold Brown, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brown of Rear Chapel street, this village, was accidentally shot while hunting squirrels with another youth near Spring Glen Thursday morning, it was learned today.

The boy is at the Ellenville Memorial Hospital with a shot wound in the right hip and upper leg, inflicted by the discharge of a double barrel shot gun which slid over a ledge as the boys were climbing down to go after a squirrel.

The accident happened at about 10:45 a. m. Thursday as young Brown was making his way over the ledge with his companion, Herbert Keener, 16, of Ellenville. Information obtained at Brown's home indicated that the two were on their way home from the woods when they saw the squirrel and attempted to hurry after it over the ledge.

Young Keener, it was said, went over the ledge first and Brown was carrying his gun. Keener took the gun by its stock and it slipped from his hand and slid down the rock. It discharged some distance away and the family said Brown was struck with more than one bullet. Young Keener also hit the fingers of one hand.

Keener ran to the Nevele hotel and notified Dr. Charles Rosenstock, who administered first aid and young Brown was taken to the Ellenville Memorial Hospital in the Pulling ambulance. He was treated there by Dr. Oran M. Roberts.

Fossilized Skin Of Dinosaur Found At West Coxsackie

Possible fossilized dinosaur skin in rock estimated to be 450,000,000 years old near West Coxsackie was reported in today's New York Times. The announcement was made by Dr. George Halcott Chadwick of Catskill, a retired geologist, at the Geological Society of America's meeting in the Pennsylvania Hotel yesterday.

The article from the Times follows: The origin of mysterious imprints strangely resembling fossilized dinosaur skin in the rock on the left side of United States Highway 9-W three miles north of the traffic light at West Coxsackie, N. Y., confounded experts at the Geological Society of America's meeting at the Pennsylvania Hotel yesterday.

The marks were described as suggestive of "reptilian skin on a gigantic scale" as though a huge dinosaur had leaned against a mud bank and left the scaly imprints of his hide sometime in the earth's dim past.

They were called to the attention of scientists at the meeting by Dr. George Halcott Chadwick of Catskill, N. Y., a retired geologist who was formerly a professor at the University of Rochester. Dr. Chadwick passed around photographs of the strange marks to his audience and asked for advice in explaining how they were formed.

Found in Many Areas

"Fossilized dinosaur leather," as it is known to paleontologists, has been found in many parts of the world. The strange marks near West Coxsackie, however, are in rock that are estimated to be 450,000,000 years old and the first dinosaur is reckoned to have made its appearance on earth 250,000,000 years ago.

The last surviving member of the dinosaur family perished more than 90,000,000 years ago, according to most scientific calculations.

The mysterious imprints were described by Dr. Chadwick, who covered them from the window of his automobile while driving to Albany, as the repetition of units each about one and a half by three feet in size.

There are more than 100 of these individual "scales" and they are quite similar, but not exact duplications of each other. Dr. Chadwick pointed out that the pattern occupies a space six by thirty feet, which is much larger than any known animal, he added.

The marks are pressed into a rock formation known to geologists as the "Normanskill gray" wacke grit and shale. The specimen, stands upright, clearly visible, a few feet from the road, which Dr. Chadwick said had a wide shoulder convenient for parking at the spot.

On Underside of Rock

The marks were originally made on the underside of a rock formation that folded up in subsequent movements of the earth's crust, he said. The dinosaur-like impressions came into the range of motorists several years ago when the highway was re-routed to its present location.

In a few years the mysterious marks will be destroyed by the force of rain, wind, sunlight and ice, Dr. Chadwick declared. For this reason he brought the matter to the attention of others "in the hope that its mode of formation may be explained or at least some reasonable theories suggested."

Dr. Chadwick himself does not believe the marks were left by a dinosaur. A man with wide geological experience in the New England area, however, he termed the find "astounding" and said he had never seen anything to compare with the "phenomenon."

For his own part he advanced the tentative theory that the marks were the result of the mechanical action of water or some other natural agent, but with this explanation he said he could not account for the remarkable regularity of the impressions.

Match Burns Fireman

Fireman Robert Hardwick of 90 Tubby street was treated at Kingston Hospital early this morning for an eye injury which other firemen said he received at the Central fire station when the head flew off a match he had struck and hit his eye. The injury was not serious, and Hardwick was released from the hospital following treatment, hospital authorities reported.

Ellenville, Nov. 12 — Harold Brown, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brown of Rear Chapel street, this village, was accidentally shot while hunting squirrels with another youth near Spring Glen Thursday morning, it was learned today.

The boy is at the Ellenville Memorial Hospital with a shot wound in the right hip and upper leg, inflicted by the discharge of a double barrel shot gun which slid over a ledge as the boys were climbing down to go after a squirrel.

The accident happened at about 10:45 a. m. Thursday as young Brown was making his way over the ledge with his companion, Herbert Keener, 16, of Ellenville. Information obtained at Brown's home indicated that the two were on their way home from the woods when they saw the squirrel and attempted to hurry after it over the ledge.

Young Keener, it was said, went over the ledge first and Brown was carrying his gun. Keener took the gun by its stock and it slipped from his hand and slid down the rock. It discharged some distance away and the family said Brown was struck with more than one bullet. Young Keener also hit the fingers of one hand.

Keener ran to the Nevele hotel and notified Dr. Charles Rosenstock, who administered first aid and young Brown was taken to the Ellenville Memorial Hospital in the Pulling ambulance. He was treated there by Dr. Oran M. Roberts.

Philip Graeff, well-known painting contractor of Maple Hill, died suddenly in Kingston this morning. He is survived by his wife, Anna Burger Graeff, and a sister, Elizabeth Muller. Burial will be held Monday at 3 p. m. from the George J. Moylan Funeral Home, Main street, Rosendale. Burial will be in the Rosendale Plains Cemetery.

The funeral of Ellen M. McManus, 65, who died Wednesday at her residence, 210 West 262nd street, New York city, following a long illness, will be held Saturday from the E. W. Maloney and Sons Funeral Home, 11 Ludlow street, Yonkers. A solemn high requiem Mass will be offered at St. Margaret's Church at 9 a. m. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery, Saugerties. Mrs. McManus was born December 5, 1882, in Offaly county, Ireland, the daughter of John and Catherine Ryan Flanagan. Her husband, Patrick McManus, died in 1943. She was survived by two daughters, Sister Mary Eileen of the Order of Sisters of St. Ursula now stationed at St. Ursula's Convent, Kingston, and Miss Agnes McManus of 210 West 262nd street, New York city. Three brothers, Edward and Michael Flanagan of Ireland and Patrick Flanagan of Australia, and two sons, Frank Flanagan, Balenville, Mrs. John Keating, Ireland; Mrs. John Fallon, Floral Park, L. I. and Miss Elizabeth Flanagan, Ireland. She was a communicant of St. Margaret's Church, Riverdale, New York city. Mrs. McManus was a resident of Yonkers since her husband's death. She came to this country in 1905 and lived in New York city from 1905 to 1931 when she removed to Saugerties. She resided in Saugerties from 1931 to 1943. Prior to his death Mr. McManus was assistant manager of the credit department of the National Biscuit Co. for a number of years.

Fossilized Skin Of Dinosaur Found At West Coxsackie

Possible fossilized dinosaur skin in rock estimated to be 450,000,000 years old near West Coxsackie was reported in today's New York Times. The announcement was made by Dr. George Halcott Chadwick of Catskill, a retired geologist, at the Geological Society of America's meeting in the Pennsylvania Hotel yesterday.

The article from the Times follows: The origin of mysterious imprints strangely resembling fossilized dinosaur skin in the rock on the left side of United States Highway 9-W three miles north of the traffic light at West Coxsackie, N. Y., confounded experts at the Geological Society of America's meeting at the Pennsylvania Hotel yesterday.

The marks were described as suggestive of "reptilian skin on a gigantic scale" as though a huge dinosaur had leaned against a mud bank and left the scaly imprints of his hide sometime in the earth's dim past.

They were called to the attention of scientists at the meeting by Dr. George Halcott Chadwick of Catskill, N. Y., a retired geologist who was formerly a professor at the University of Rochester. Dr. Chadwick passed around photographs of the strange marks to his audience and asked for advice in explaining how they were formed.

Found in Many Areas

"Fossilized dinosaur leather," as it is known to paleontologists, has been found in many parts of the world. The strange marks near West Coxsackie, however, are in rock that are estimated to be 450,000,000 years old and the first dinosaur is reckoned to have made its appearance on earth 250,000,000 years ago.

The last surviving member of the dinosaur family perished more than 90,000,000 years ago, according to most scientific calculations.

The mysterious imprints were described by Dr. Chadwick, who covered them from the window of his automobile while driving to Albany, as the repetition of units each about one and a half by three feet in size.

There are more than 100 of these individual "scales" and they are quite similar, but not exact duplications of each other. Dr. Chadwick pointed out that the pattern occupies a space six by thirty feet, which is much larger than any known animal, he added.

The marks are pressed into a rock formation known to geologists as the "Normanskill gray" wacke grit and shale. The specimen, stands upright, clearly visible, a few feet from the road, which Dr. Chadwick said had a wide shoulder convenient for parking at the spot.

On Underside of Rock

The marks were originally made on the underside of a rock formation that folded up in subsequent movements of the earth's crust, he said. The dinosaur-like impressions came into the range of motorists several years ago when the highway was re-routed to its present location.

In a few years the mysterious marks will be destroyed by the force of rain, wind, sunlight and ice, Dr. Chadwick declared. For this reason he brought the matter to the attention of others "in the hope that its mode of formation may be explained or at least some reasonable theories suggested."

Dr. Chadwick himself does not believe the marks were left by a dinosaur. A man with wide geological experience in the New England area, however, he termed the find "astounding" and said he had never seen anything to compare with the "phenomenon."

For his own part he advanced the tentative theory that the marks were the result of the mechanical action of water or some other natural agent, but with this explanation he said he could not account for the remarkable regularity of the impressions.

Match Burns Fireman

Fireman Robert Hardwick of 90 Tubby street was treated at Kingston Hospital early this morning for an eye injury which other firemen said he received at the Central fire station when the head flew off a match he had struck and hit his eye. The injury was not serious, and Hardwick was released from the hospital following treatment, hospital authorities reported.

Body Arrives

SGT. ISAAC STRUBER

The body of Sergeant Isaac Struber, who was killed in action on October 27, 1944, in France, has arrived in this country for burial, according to information received by his wife, Mrs. Marjorie Struber.

Sgt. Struber was inducted into service from Kerkonkson in January 1941. While in service, he was a member of the 8th Division of the 28th Infantry. His brother, Raymond Struber, was killed in France two weeks following Isaac's death.

Sgt. Struber was born in Rosendale, the son of Sarah Struber and the late Augustus Struber. Prior to his induction into the army he was employed at the Century Cement Plant in Rosendale.

Besides his wife, he is survived by his mother, a brother, Leroy Struber, and a sister, Mrs. Iris Harvey, both of Kingston.

The body of Sgt. Struber will be in charge of the Wolf Funeral Home, 340 Broadway. Further arrangements will be announced.

Fagan Is Elected K.P.A. President

Patrolman Francis J. Fagan of 150 Fair street was elected president of the Kingston Patrolmen's Association at a meeting at police headquarters Thursday evening. He will take office on January 1, 1949, succeeding Kenneth E. Hyatt, who has been granted a leave of absence from the police department.

Fagan was appointed to the police force on July 1, 1947. During the past year, he served as treasurer of the K.P.A., and in addition did considerable work on the program for the baseball game which the police sponsored this summer.

Patrolman Leonard Ellsworth was elected vice-president to succeed Patrolman Walter Fitzgerald. Walter Van Steenburgh was re-elected for his second term as secretary; Gurnsey Burger, Jr., was elected treasurer to succeed Fagan, and Carl Jinnasiewicz was elected financial secretary to succeed William A. Krum.

Greek Cabinet Quits, Accepted

Athens, Nov. 12 (AP)—Premier Themistokles Sophoulis handed the resignation of his coalition Greek government to King Paul today. The king accepted it.

Sophoulis said the king would summon Foreign Minister Constantin Tsaldaris, leader of the Populist party to the palace to discuss the cabinet crisis before asking any leader or group to form a new government.

Sophoulis' coalition Liberal-Populist cabinet had been in power since Sept. 7, 1947.

Tsaldaris still is at the United Nations session in Paris. Sophoulis called him last night, asking him to return but so far there has been no indication of when Tsaldaris will arrive.

The outgoing premier said the king's summons of Tsaldaris followed parliamentary procedure since he is leader of the largest party. Technically the king is free to call on anyone to form a cabinet since the government did not fall on a vote of no confidence.

Political observers expect the king also will call leaders of other parties for consultations.

Sophoulis resigned under pressure from Sophocles Venizelos, deputy leader of his own Liberal party.

Venizelos charged the government in 14 months had failed to suppress the Communist rebellion and lacked the confidence of the Greek people. He claimed enough support from his followers in the Liberal party to combine with opposition parties and overthrow the government in parliament.

He held off action while the Greek case was before the U.N. Political Committee, reportedly at the request of King Paul.

Sophoulis met with his cabinet before handing his resignation to the king. He thanked the ministers for their services and told them every effort should be made to obtain a strong government for Greece.

According to the chief clerk of parliament, the present political strength is as follows: Populists, 132 seats; Liberals, 84; Social Democrats, 30; National Liberals, 24; independents and smaller parties, 84; Total, 354.

42-Year-Old City Travel Agency Will Have New Locale

Greenwald's Travel Service will open its new office Monday at 286 Fair street, over Styles Jewels store. The new space increases the agency to permit the introduction of several ideas in travel agency operation.

There will be a 10-section map of the world, covering a 160-square foot area which will dominate the north wall of the main office. On this map, all major U. S. and international air routes, ports of call of major passenger steamship lines, and capital cities of all countries are easily identified. Flanking the map, and mounted throughout the entire office are enlarged Kodachromes of major scenic points of interest at home and abroad. Oil paintings and lithographs of many famous steamships of past and present have been selected from the Greenwald collection and will be on permanent display. Models of the new 80-passenger Boeing Stratocruiser and the DC-6 will carry out the travel motif of the office of this 42-year-old agency.

One of Oldest Agencies

The "Transatlantic and Coastwise Steamship Ticket Agency" was originally opened in 1906 at 49 Broadway and moved to 39-41 Broadway a few years later. Jack Greenwald, who managed the agency, was largely responsible for the successful immigration of many local residents of foreign origin in the years prior to World War 2. In 1931, the agency moved to 286 Fair street where it occupied an office on the street floor. Active operation of this agency was in the hands of Jack Greenwald until 1945, when his son, Herbert Greenwald, assumed management of the travel business.

The Greenwald Agency is accredited to the 15 member lines of the Transatlantic Passenger Conference, the member lines of the Western Hemisphere Passenger Conference and the Trans-Pacific Passenger Conference. In addition, appointments have been made by the airlines of the Air Traffic Conference representing major U. S. airlines and International Air Traffic Association comprising foreign and domestic carriers.

With the formation of the American Society of Travel Agents in 1931, Jack Greenwald became an active member of this group that has been instrumental in many of the developments in the travel field. The recent increase in free duty allowance and the elimination of the 15 per cent U. S. tax on foreign travel can be credited in part to this organization.

To round out its complete travel service, Greenwald's act as local representatives for major travel organizations throughout the world: Thomas Cook & Son, Ltd., American Express Company, Simmons Touts, Exprinter, Raymond-Whitcomb and others. The local travel agent will also plan an independent tour according to specifications or will offer a selection of many all-expense conducted tours planned by travel experts and covering all costs.

A hotel reservation system has been instituted. A visit to the office or a phone call is all that is necessary to obtain hotel reservations in most cities.

World Traveler

At 18 months, Mark Wilson, full of importance with his briefcase and fez, is an experienced world traveler, having visited 10 foreign countries. He recently arrived in New York with his parents from Cairo. Reason for Mark's travels is that his dad is an airlines accountant.

of the United States and in all foreign countries. Normally, in traveling outside of the North American continent, the traveler will find that passport, visas, health and police certificates may be necessary. Completely detailed information is always available and, in addition, visas and required certificates will be obtained at cost. With the opening of this new office, a travel library devoted to those interested in travel and the educational aspects of foreign countries has been planned.

HUGO HOUSE REBUILT

The house in Vlandien, Luxembourg, in which Victor Hugo, famed French writer, once lived and wrote, recently was re-dedicated. It had been destroyed during the war and later rebuilt. Hugo lived in exile for nearly 20 years because he hated the rule of Napoleon III and wrote many of his poems in the house at Vlandien, between 1862 and 1871. It became known afterward as Victor Hugo House and has been owned by the municipality since 1935.

Manhattan is a mighty city; its towers stick into the air. And yet its people, more the pity, are wracked with woe and marked with care. They dash about in mad endeavor to earn an honest dime or two; they do not rest—nor hardly ever—their faces are a pasty hue. They breathe the deadly fumes of traffic and ride like notes in subway cars; their speech is short and telegraphic; they lounge about in cocktail bars. The lights of Broadway may be brighter, but they are hard upon the eyes, and Broadway hearts are none the lighter for talking big and cracking wise.

Hobbs: "Boy, my girl has a beautiful mop of red hair!"
Nobb: "Yes, and she ought to put it back in the bucket."

A man with a wonderful vocabulary is one who can describe a shapely girl without using his hands.

Little Viken
She plucks the daisy petals off (She's only six years old to date).
And chants her vow: "He loves me not; He loves me not—but just you wait!"
Thomas Gaskell.

Sudden thought. Why do all the women whom slips show, wear washed-out ones with a plain hem instead of those pink satin and lace affairs we see in the shop windows?

Junior: "Dad must have been up to all sorts of mischief when he was a boy like me!"
Mother: "What makes you think so?"

Junior: "Well, he always knows exactly what questions to ask me when he wants to know where I'm going and what I've been doing."

When a woman hasn't anything more to say in self-defense, she bursts into tears.

Husband, home early: Ah! There's no place like home.
Wife: What's happened at the club, darling?

What some people need is less yearning and more earning capacity.

Bans German Markers
Prague (AP)—The Prague city administration has dug up an old order that German inscriptions on tombstones must be removed, and announced that removal must be done by the end of this year except where removing the lettering would deface other art work on the grave stone. The order was issued shortly after liberation in 1945, when feeling against the Sudeten Germans and every other kind of German ran high. German inscriptions were to be replaced by Czech. But, like all orders, enforcement lagged. Recently the question was renewed and the Prague council decided it must be obeyed.

Bowles' Name Off Schedule Backing 'Red Dean's' Talk

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 12 (AP)—The name of Governor-elect Chester Bowles was stricken today from a list of sponsors for a lecture here by the Very Rev. Dr. Hewlett Johnson, the so-called "Red Dean" of Canterbury Cathedral.

The pro-Soviet English clergyman, whose admission to this country for a lecture has aroused a controversy over the "freedom of speech" issue, will speak in Yale University's Woolsey Hall next Monday night.

Bowles' name was included among the sponsors in an announcement by the Connecticut section of a national "Committee of Welcome" to Dean Johnson which arranged the local lecture. It was deleted, however, after it developed that the use of the Democratic governor-elect's name resulted from a telephone conversation with his secretary and that Bowles did not give his personal consent.

The former national O.P.A. chief left Monday aboard his yacht for an extended vacation trip from which he is not scheduled to return until after Thanksgiving.

Differing versions of the circumstances which led to the inclusion of the governor-elect's name on the list came from Marcella Eastman, Bowles' secretary, and John Marsalka, a Yale professor who distributed the committee's announcement.

Miss Eastman said that Marsalka telephoned to her after Bowles' departure and asked if the governor-elect could attend the lecture. After hearing that Bowles was away on vacation, she said, Marsalka read a list of sponsors which "sounded very distinguished to me" and asked if the governor-elect could be included.

Her reply, Miss Eastman said, was that she knew of no reason why not, but that it was a matter which Bowles should decide personally.

Marsalka said he got the "definite understanding" from his conversation with Miss Eastman that it would be proper to include Bowles' name on the list. "I certainly wouldn't have put it there unless I obtained her consent," he said.

Princess Will Share Layettes With British Mothers

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM
London, Nov. 12 (AP)—A world-record baby shower for Princess Elizabeth's first born may overflow into many humbler British homes.

The Princess has let it be known she would like other babies arriving the same day as hers to share many hundreds of layettes given to her by loyal subjects and admirers the world over. The birth of Elizabeth's baby is expected some time this week-end.

In London alone it is estimated that at least 350 to 400 babies will be born this week-end, in hospitals, nursing or private homes.

Elizabeth and her husband, Prince Philip, may share their baby presents with perhaps 100 or more of that number.

A similar course with wedding presents was followed by the Princess when she married last November. Overwhelmed with gifts from all over the world she gave away some two dozen frocks and suits to other late November brides of her own age.

Months ago, even before Buckingham Palace confirmed reports that a royal infant was expected, women of Britain and the commonwealth lands started making nursery clothes and organizing Elizabeth Needlework Clubs.

The idea caught on, particularly in Australia and New Zealand, where the royal family expect to visit next year. Sydney has sent 900 baby garments, handbags and embroidered Melbourne, Brisbane and other cities are contributing also.

Many commonwealth inhabitants as well as homeland subjects have sent gifts individually.

From donors close to home have come lamb's wool and kid leather baby shoes, fancy shawls and crib covers, embroidered silk and knitting wool.

An American firm is rumored to have offered daily diaper service by air, each diaper to bear the royal crest. Much as Elizabeth might appreciate the offer, it no doubt will be turned down.

Clubs and organizations throughout Britain have sent messages pledging loyalty to the royal couple.

Elizabeth, who remains in excellent health and spirits, strolled in the spacious Buckingham Palace gardens yesterday making the most of the hazy autumn sunshine.

As Pegler Sees It

not on information but according to the motivated bellows of rascals who run the unions.

The Taft-Hartley Law did not totally forbid the closed shop, although even Frances Perkins, late Secretary of Labor, once was forced to say it should be forbidden. That she did in a speech to a national convention of the A. F. of L. in Seattle, a stronghold of unionized journalism, which significantly failed to send the news to the country. Even Roosevelt himself was tricked into condemnation of the closed shop when, in the scrap with John L. Lewis about the "captive" coal mines, he said that to force the miners into John L.'s union would "be Hitler's way." Lewis himself has admitted that the union shop and the checkoff would not be necessary if the men were willing to maintain their membership and pay their tributes to him. In other words, they aren't willing.

As the pioneer campaigner against racketeers, persecutions, irresponsibility, riotous picketing, discrimination, job-selling, life tenure of office in unions, secret financial accounts, Communist manipulation, corruption of the public ballot by union crooks with union money, corrupt union elections, involuntary strikes, compulsory picketing and the tenure of office by unpardoned convicts, I nevertheless felt dissatisfied with the Taft-Hartley Law.

I have seriously doubted the wisdom of our having any national union law at all, for it has seemed impossible to write an enforceable law which could serve the proper purposes desired without causing corruption. The Wagner Act was such a glaring imposition on the people's gullible trust that I may have been driven to an extreme position by hatred of the hypocrites involved and the criminals whom they deliberately invited to power. But it is plain that we are condemned to suffer certain effects of some such law and the prudent thing in that case is to make it as beneficial as we can.

Who got the benefits of the Wagner Act? The workers did get higher wages, but Truman discredited that gain in his campaign diatribes. Anyway, most of these raises were political bribes from Roosevelt, not against the high cost of living gains won by bargaining agents. But actually the people got no more buying power for an hour's work than they got in 1929 and they are now kicking back income taxes and a fantastic federal extortion in the guise of Social Security. The Social Security fund meanwhile has been stolen and squandered, leaving not a dollar in the kitty of billions collected. And the Social Security payments are so paltry that a basket-case wouldn't give up a shoestring and tincup clientele to qualify for this dole.

In addition to these exactions, the citizen is still subject to unlimited extortions by union racketeers, notwithstanding the Taft-Hartley Law. And the union contributions still violate many rights conferred on Americans by the Constitution of the United States.

The real beneficiaries of the Wagner Act were Senator Robert F. Wagner, a pathetic reproach to the intelligence of the people who couldn't find a way to throw him out; the Roosevelt and now Truman Administrations; the union bosses, including the jailbirds and yet-to-be convicted criminals, and, greediest of all, the horrible horde of corrupt lawyers in the special practice of union law.

ON BRIDGESmoother Play Wins
Small Slam Here

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

This is the last of five articles on the fascinating but difficult smoother play.

If you run across a smoother play, send it to me. It is the most difficult of all bridge plays to recognize because you usually have lost the timing on the hand before you realize that a smoother play is possible. To get the full benefit of today's hand, you should lay the cards out, because it is one of the more complicated smoother plays.

On the opening lead of the six of clubs, East played the ten-spot and declarer won with the ace. His next play was the queen of hearts and West correctly put on the three-spot. Declarer let it ride. Even when East showed out he was not too much worried, as he still hoped for a spade break. The deuce of hearts was led, and when West played the four-spot, dummy's eight was finessed.

♠ K Q 4 3 ♥ A 9 8 7 ♦ A 4 3 2 ♣ 9		♠ 7 ♥ Non's ♦ J 9 8 5 ♣ K Q J 10
♠ 10 8 5 ♥ K 2 4 3 ♦ Q 10 7 ♣ 6 2		♠ 7 ♥ Non's ♦ J 9 8 5 ♣ K Q J 10
♠ A 9 8 2 ♥ Q J 10 6 2 ♦ K 6 ♣ A 3		♠ 7 ♥ Non's ♦ J 9 8 5 ♣ K Q J 10
Tournament—E-W vul.		♠ 7 ♥ Non's ♦ J 9 8 5 ♣ K Q J 10

4 ♠	Pass	5 ♥	Pass
6 ♥	Pass	Pass	Pass
Opening—4 ♠		12

Now the king of spades was cashed and a low spade led to declarer's ace. South knew then that the spade suit did not break, so he had to resort to a smoother play to make the contract.

He ruffed his losing club in dummy, leaving dummy with the blank ace of trumps and West with the king and five-spot. It looked as if West was sure to make the king of trumps. A diamond was led from dummy, won with the king, and a diamond returned to dummy's ace. A third diamond was ruffed by declarer, and a small spade led to dummy's queen.

At this point declarer let back dummy's last diamond. East played the jack and declarer discarded his losing spade, leaving himself with the jack and ten of hearts. East had only the king and queen of clubs. When he returned one of them, South trumped with the ten of hearts, and West was smothered out of his king. If he under-trumped with the five dummy's four of spades would be discarded. If he over-trumped with the king, declarer would trump with the ace in dummy and ruff the four of spades with the jack of hearts.

KINGSTON POINT PARK
November 10

Editor, The Freeman
Kingston Point Park as well as the Hudson River Day Line can be preserved if the Conservation Commission of the State of New York were to discuss the problem of acquiring the line as a monument. It has great value as of historical value—and it would cost the state very little per capita to keep it running as a public utility. There are many museums and other public buildings maintained at greater cost than the Hudson River Day Line, which is of great value.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

PAYING COMPLIMENTS

A letter says: "Will you please explain when it would be proper for a husband to pay his wife a compliment on her dinner when a guest has refused the dish."

This depends entirely upon how it is done. Ordinarily, he would wait and tell her when company isn't there. But there are occasions when a difficult dish turns out especially well and it could be both appreciative and suitable to say, "This dish of Mary's is always good, but tonight it is supreme."

One Note Sufficient

Dear Mrs. Post: I received a wedding present from friends of mother's, the card reading, "Mr. and Mrs. . . ." (engraved) and underneath written the name of an unmarried daughter at home and a son and daughter-in-law living in their neighborhood. I wrote one thank-you note, addressed to "Mr. and Mrs. . . ." and definitely included my thanks to the others in the note. Mother thinks I should have written three separate notes or at least one extra to the married son and his wife because they don't live at home. What do you think?

Answer: I think your one note as you described it was sufficient. However, it would not be improper to write a separate note to the son and his wife.

Engagement Ring on Wedding Day

Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be proper to wear my engagement ring on my right hand during the wedding ceremony so that afterwards it can be put on top of the wedding ring? I feel that some of my out-of-town relatives would like seeing it as they haven't had an opportunity to.

Answer: Yes, indeed. In fact, it is the usual procedure.

After-Dinner Cups at Night

Dear Mrs. Post: May after-dinner coffee cups be used for a buffet supper served late in the evening?

Answer: Small cups are the correct ones to use. Breakfast coffee cups, meaning that you will serve coffee with milk, are all right if customary in your neighborhood.

Mrs. Post's booklet, No. 504, "The Etiquette of Table Setting," contains 20 helpful table-serving questions and answers. To obtain a copy send 10 cents (coin preferred) and a 3-cent stamp to her, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Will Play for Ahavath Israel Ball

JOHNNY LONG

Young America's favorite band leader, as Johnny Long is called, will bring his orchestra to the municipal auditorium, Wednesday night, November 24, to play for the Thanksgiving Eve Ball sponsored by Congregation Ahavath Israel. Announcement to this effect was made today by Herman G. Rafalowsky, general chairman of the social event, who promises an all-star show in addition to the famous recording band.

Featured with the Long ensemble are Natalie, little Hawaiian songstress, the Beachcombers, Janet Brace, and pianist June Mays.

Discussing his contract with Long, Chairman Rafalowsky whose aim is a bigger and better show and ball for Ahavath Israel each year, had the following to say about what the connoisseurs are calling "the band to watch this year."

Johnny Long is probably the only top-name bandleader who plays violin. A reverse? At the age of six, a big bit his hand, severed the tendons and forced Johnny to reverse fingering hands.

Now he bows with his left-hand and fingers with the right, the reverse of every other violinist in the business. He plays a specially-made violin.

Natalie, tiny singer with the band, is the only native Hawaiian now singing with a name band. She was the first girl to be heard on the Hawaiian radio and was known as "Little Natalie."

"The Beachcombers" quartet have been with Johnny Long since late 1945. This is their first professional job together. They had been a member of the Maurice Evans special service troupe and traveled all over the South Pacific during the war.

The orchestra is an all-around unit. They feel equally at home with all type songs, but tend to play a "solid-sweet" course, as Johnny says. He feels you should be able to "hear the melody" in which most dancers agree.

Johnny Long is perhaps best known for his "pathe-chorus" tunes. He is world-famous for his recordings of "Shantytown," "Blue Skies," "Just Like That," "When I Grow Too Old to Dream" and others.

State Teachers College News

New Paltz, Nov. 11—Nominations and elections were held Thursday night for officers at the New Dormitory. Those elected were Dorothy Price, president; Hope Giordano, vice-president; and Grace Mercer, social chairman. Before the meeting ended Bill Eldard, president of the Student Council, and Josephine Volkner, chairman of the case and rules committee, spoke to the Dorm and gave suggestions which included that the girls organize their own council to make and carry out rules; also that the members from each wing and the president and vice president of the Dormitory be on the council. Elections will be held for these offices as soon as possible.

The Men's Glee Club recently held its annual election of officers. They are A. Edward Fox, president; Henry Hopper, vice-president; Peter J. Morahan, secretary-treasurer; and Henry Serant, librarian. The Men's Glee Club, under the direction of Robert Strohman, is at present rehearsing for its Christmas presentation.

Dr. James L. Hymes, Jr., professor of education and coordinator of early childhood education at the college, spoke at the Mills School in New York city last Friday as part of the Founder's Day program.

Slides were featured at the first Book Club meeting which convened in the social room last Monday. The group viewed Dr. Sherwin's collection of colorful and his topic scenes of New England. The absence of Dr. Sherwin, Mr. Rollins gave a commentary of the slides. Miss Tullock, Miss Jeanette

Van Arendonk and Edgar V. Beebe were guests of honor at the meeting.

The artists series presentation of Margaret Webster in "Macbeth," which was scheduled for November 3 was postponed until December 6.

A large delegation of 14 members represented the Zeta Chapter of Delta Kappa fraternity at the fall convocation held at Oneonta State Teachers College, October 29, 30 and 31. Those attending were Roy Crosswell, president; Bill Eldard, Tom Olive, Jack Beadesley, Al Lee, Jason Gounas, Bob Moser, Charlie Miller, Warren Schoonmaker, Bob Lynch, Sid Schaeffer, and Lenny Meshover.

The College Community Symphony is preparing for its forthcoming concert. To date the soloist has not been chosen but will be announced shortly.

Anne Dobler, a New Paltz college senior, represented state teachers college institutions at an educational panel held last week at the Mamaroneck High School.

Epsilon Delta Chi honorary teaching society of the college held its first meeting in October with the intent of initiating new members into the organization. Initiates were chosen from last year's last quarter and included: Ruth Fessenden, Beverly Guernier, Ella Karsten, Joan Kessel, Helen Lane, Betty Lyons, Doty Dave, Jack Roosa and D. Pucci.

Dit Pucci also was elected vice president to fill the vacancy while the officers include Dorothy Legg, Jean Brown and Peggy Osterhout as president, treasurer and secretary respectively.

TURKEY LEFTOVERS STRETCH BUDGET

BY GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Staff Writer

What about the leftover Thanksgiving turkey? Treat it with respect—it can produce wonderful main dishes.

Southern turkey hash is a wonderful dish, especially when served with cornmeal griddle cakes or toasted cornmeal muffins and plum jam.

Cut only white meat in cubes. Make a white sauce using butter, a little flour and turkey broth. There must be onion and celery in the sauce and a suspicion of mace. Remove the onion and celery and add a little heavy cream. Then the cut-up turkey. Heat through and serve. Wonderful!

New Orleans Turkey Supper Dish (Serves 4-5)

Two cups chopped leftover turkey or chicken, ¼ cup fortified margarine or butter, 4 tablespoons chopped green pepper, 2 tablespoons chopped onion, 4 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/16 teaspoon paprika, 2 cups con-somme or stock, 1 cup canned tomatoes or condensed tomato soup, 1 tablespoon mixed horseradish, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, ½ teaspoon ground cinnamon, 4 or 5 slices buttered toast. Cook the pepper and onion in the margarine or butter until the onion is yellow; stir in the flour, salt and paprika smoothly; add the stock or bouillon slowly, mixing well. Add the chopped canned tomato or the soup; mix and stir until it boils. Add the horseradish and lemon juice, then the cinnamon. Mix, add the chicken or turkey. Stir and heat just to boiling; do not boil. Serve on toast.

Turkey, Chicken or Duck, and Rice Loaf (6 or more large servings)

Two and one-half to 3 cups chopped leftover turkey, chicken or duck, 1 cup cooked rice, 2 cups soft bread crumbs, ¼ teaspoon poultry seasoning, ¼ cup chopped green pepper OR ¼ cup chopped canned mushrooms, 3 cups milk OR 2 cups milk and 1 cup leftover gravy, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 4 eggs, well beaten. Rub a large loaf pan with fortified margarine or butter. Mix all ingredients. Pack into the pan. Set the pan in a shallow pan of hot water. Bake in a moderately slow oven (300 degrees F.) about one hour to one and one-half hours; test for doneness; the loaf should be firm. If leftover gravy is not used in the mixture, reheat the gravy and serve with the loaf. Or serve plain if desired.

SUNDAY'S MENU

BREAKFAST: ORANGE juice, parsley omelet, enriched toast, butter or fortified margarine crab apple jelly, coffee, milk.

THANKSGIVING DINNER: Mushroom and vegetable soup, roast turkey, oyster stuffing, giblet gravy, cranberry jelly, mashed potatoes, white onions and green peas, baked acorn squash, romaine and chicory salad, vanilla ice cream, hot fudge sauce with nuts, raisins, coffee, milk.

SUPPER: Southern turkey hash, toasted cornmeal muffins, butter or fortified margarine, plum jam, fruit cup, cookies, tea, milk.

HOME BUREAU

Lomontville Unit The Lomontville Home Bureau unit will meet Tuesday at 10 a. m. at the home of Mrs. Willie Kohler. The afternoon session will be devoted to making wool shirts with Mrs. Frank Altieri as the leader.

'Loneliest Island' Chaplain

London (AP)—The Rev. and Mrs. David Ingles Luard, who first met on the remote South Atlantic island of Tristan da Cunha, are going back to live in the place sometimes called "the loneliest spot in the world." The Society for the Propagation of the Gospel here is sending Luard as Church of England chaplain to the British-owned island, about midway between Capetown and Buenos Aires.

Sadie Hawkins Dance Monday in Immaculate Conception Hall

Final plans were made at the special meeting Wednesday evening for the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance sponsored by the Immaculate Conception Holy Name Society to be held in the school hall, Delaware avenue, Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Polkas, Jaul Jones, old fashioned and modern dancing will be conducted.

Music will be furnished by Bill Brown and his orchestra. Refreshments will be served throughout the evening.

The committee in charge has planned an evening of entertainment for all ages. Tickets may be procured from any member or at the door Monday evening. The public is invited.

Proceeds will be used for the new school fund and the Holy Name Society.

The committee will meet in the school hall Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock to decorate the hall for the affair.

Glenford Country Club to Hold Dance

Glenford Country Club will hold its second annual dance at the Glenford Inn in Boiceville, Route 28, Saturday evening. Everyone is welcome.

Washes everything FASTER, CLEANER, WHITER, BRIGHTER than any soap...in hardest water!

FAB gives FABULOUS SUDS, even in hardest water. FAB with Super-Wetting Action makes more suds, faster suds than soap. One cup of FAB was put into washer on left. One cup of soap into the one on right. Both washers ran 7 minutes. Result: a washer full of rich suds from FAB. Almost no suds from soap.

What is Super-Wetting Action?

See for yourself! Drop a little ball of cotton thread into a glass of water. It floats; stays dry a long time. Drop another ball of thread into a glass of water and FAB. It's soaked instantly. This is FAB's Super-Wetting Action, something no soap has!

New Ingredient Washes White Wash Whiter, Colors Brighter! And FAB leaves no color-dulling soap scum; removes scum left from previous soap washings... makes even old clothes look newer!

Washes dishes twice as fast! No wiping! Slashes through grease as no soap can do.

PORT BEATS KINGSTON, 13-6, IN STUNNING UPSET

Gettysburg Rules Favorite Over St. Lawrence in College Game Here

Maroon Collapses After Two Bad Fumbles in First Period

An underdog Port Jervis eleven that was twice saved from the executioner's axe by Kingston fumbles in the first quarter, picked up a touchdown on a lucky break, suddenly forgot the record books, caught fire and upset mighty, undefeated Kingston High, 13-6, before a shocked gathering of 1300 in an Armistice Day classic at municipal stadium.

The cataclysmic reversal of form sent Hudson valley gridiron experts racing into the doghouse along with Messrs. Gallup-Roper-Crossley and shattered the Maroon's carefully nurtured dreams of a perfect season.

Their perfect record smeared in the quagmire of the stadium turf, the Burkenmen now must beat Newburgh Academy on Thanksgiving Day to insure the 1948 DUSO title.

Biggest Since 1929

It was the greatest upset in K.H.S. annals since a memorable November afternoon in 1929 when an unbeaten, unscathed upon K.H.S. team was upended 9-0 by an underdog Newburgh aggregation.

Five minutes after the ball game started there was no indication that Kingston wouldn't repeat its earlier 27-0 conquest of the defending champions. In 11 plays after the kickoff they marched 67 yards through a porous Port defense to score a TD. Harvey Keyes tore huge chunks of yardage off the Red and Black flanks and through their tackles, finally going over from the two. He missed a try for the extra point via a plunge.

Two Bad Fumbles

Kingston held Port twice, drove to the Port 25 and seemed headed for another TD when a forward lateral was fumbled and Port recovered. Again the Maroon kicked out to the 40. Back came the Maroon storming down to the Port 18 on a 13-yard sprint by Bill Kitson and a right end slash by Keyes. Then came another fumble recovered by Port's Crowley on the 20. Something happened at that moment. Kingston was never the same. They missed passes out in the open, the line was outcharged and just didn't act like a club that had steamrollered everything in sight. Maybe they were tired. Maybe they were suffering the inevitable letdown. They missed Mike Rienzo's plenty.

This was the game Al Chase had been pointing for. And now the Red and Black made its move. Eighty yards down the field they stormed for the tying marker. A whirling dervish by the name of Joe Pagano and Ray Nicolette did magnificent work.

Starting from their own 20-yard line, Nicolette split right guard and right tackle to the 44. Dom Marando and Nicolette picked up five yards and then came the freak play of the day. Nicolette attempted to hit Pinkala with a long downfield pass. Dee Titus got between Pinkala and the ball and apparently had batted it down. Instead the ball caromed crazily off the Kingston defense man into the hands of Pinkala who was hauled down on the 15. On third down Nicolette smashed through center from the 15. Fletcher's extra point sent Port ahead 7-6 and marked the first time this season that Kingston trailed.

From there until the closing minutes of the fourth period it was a see-saw battle between the 20-yard lines. With about four minutes to go Port moved from the Kingston 35 to paydirt on a series of hard smashes by Joe Pagano and a cleverly executed pass from Polans to Pinkala in a corner of the end zone.

Maroon Outplayed
The statistics show that Port Jervis outgained Kingston in total yardage, 227 yards to 218. The Maroon held a 170-130 edge in rushing but the Chasemen picked up 97 yards in the air against 48 for Kingston.

It was a well deserved victory for Port which had pointed for this game since the 27-0 debacle. They came here well rested, survived the shock of Kingston's first three thrusts and then went on to completely dominate the game in the last three quarters.

Williamson's Predictions

By PAUL B. WILLIAMSON
(Williamson Rating System)

Williamson 1948 Record Through Nov. 7

WEEK	Games	Wins	Ties	Pct.
SEASON	374	309	7	81.2
CONSISTENCY	2624	2156	38	81.2
	2624	2507	43	91.1

Despite the shocking upheavals of last week, the Williamson System correctly predicted 84.2 per cent of the 374 scores reported. Enjoying its best week since the opening Saturday when it was 88 per cent right on 135 scores, there were only seven upsetting ties.

Irish Picked in Game of the Week

Northwestern's Wildcats will have the best chance of upsetting Notre Dame this week, but the System will string along with Frank Leahy's Irishmen in the big game of the week. However, we won't be surprised if the bulldozers from South Bend will lose for a change. In important intercollegiate games, Boston College should beat Oregon State in an upset in "name" circles. Brown should rule over Harvard. Other close picks: Dartmouth over Cornell; Florida over Kentucky; Mississippi over Tennessee; Texas over TCU; Tulane over Baylor; Clemson over Wake Forest and Princeton over Yale.

Cats Set For Irish

New York, Nov. 12 (AP)—The argument that has raged for two seasons over the relative merits of Michigan and Notre Dame will receive added fuel tomorrow when the all-conquering Irish smash against the once-beaten Northwestern Wildcats at South Bend in the week's big game.

Perhaps the nation's football experts will be able to make up their minds after this one. At the moment, Michigan holds the No. 1 spot in the Associated Press poll by a narrow margin. A week ago it was Notre Dame, and the week before that Michigan. It's a confused circle.

Northwestern, gunning earnestly for the Rose Bowl assignment from the Big Nine, dropped its only decision to Michigan a month ago by 28 to 0. If the Irish hope to displace the Wolverines as the people's choice before the waning season ends, they will have to lambast the Wildcats by at least an equally impressive margin.

New York, Nov. 12 (AP)—Tony Pellone, a rugged 2 to 1 underdog from Greenwich Village, is given a solid chance of upsetting Cuban Kid Gavilan tonight in their 10-round welterweight duel at Madison Square Garden. Apparently a much-improved battler since he returned to action after a nose operation, Pellone has racked up three straight victories over Jerry Cursol, Paddy Young and Roman Alvarez.

Yanks to Peddle Newark Franchise

Newark, N. J., Nov. 12 (AP)—If you have in the neighborhood of a half-million dollars, you can buy a top-class minor league baseball club, along with a stadium and a couple of acres of ground thrown in.

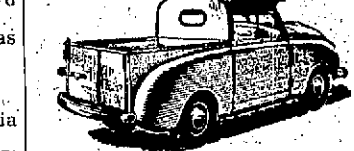

That's the situation in which the Newark Bears of the International League find themselves today. The New York Yankees, which own the Bears, are eager to sell, but thus far have found no takers.

The Yanks did not specifically say they would charge the half-million for the Bears at a conference yesterday, but informed sources seem to agree that that's a reasonable price.

The meeting, as a matter of fact, did not throw too much light on the somewhat muddled relationship between the Yanks and the Bears.

For example, Dan Topping, co-owner of the Yankees issued a statement saying:
"The Yankees believe that after 17 years of operation a change in ownership might prove beneficial." That was another way of saying the Yanks are tired of pouring money into the franchise which has been a losing proposition since the start of the war.

Kickoff Is Set 2 P. M.; Collegians Stream Into City

Gettysburg College rules a solid favorite to defeat St. Lawrence University of Canton, N. Y., in the college football classic on the neutral municipal stadium gridiron Saturday 2 p. m.

The Bullets won last year's opener of the series 20 to 7. A crowd ranging between 3,000 and 4,000 is expected to sit in on the first intercollegiate attraction played in Kingston since the 1924 St. Stephens-Manhattan joust.

1000 Alumni Due

The vanguard of St. Lawrence alumni—1000 strong—and Gettysburg rooters started moving into town at noon today. Both teams were due to arrive late this afternoon and will be quartered at the Governor Clinton and Stuyvesant hotels.

The St. Lawrence band of 100 pieces will make the trip and furnish the entertainment between the halves.

Bullets Strong

On paper Gettysburg appeared to have the stronger squad. The Bullets had been beaten three times by Lehigh, Delaware and Muhlenberg but had flashed plenty of scoring power against this powerful triumvirate. St. Lawrence carried a three game winning streak into the game.

after a bad early season start. Players to watch apparently were St. Lawrence's Joe Guardino, right half, and George Costaregni, fullback. The Gettysburg standout is Ross Sachs, one of the best forward passers in the small college ranks.

Get Big Coverage

Elaborate press and radio preparations have been made for the game. Extra press facilities have been set up at the stadium. The game will be aired via local stations in Canton and Gettysburg and by WKBY.

The St. Lawrence starting lineup will have one senior, four juniors and six sophomores according to J. Robert Williams, the Larrie's publicity director.

Principals at Annual Victory Ball

That the public, including its younger members, still enjoys a Gay Nineties type of entertainment was proven at the municipal auditorium Thursday night when Joseph E. Howard was called back again and again to lead the singing of such favorites as I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now, The Band Played On, and In the Good Old Summertime.

The occasion was the 30th annual Armistice Ball of Kingston Post No. 150, American Legion. An estimated 1,800 persons were present.

The well-balanced entertainment program included Joe Howard and a "fun on wheels" act in the Gay Nineties tradition, an act featuring birds, and a selection of vocal and dance numbers, magic and humor.

Music for the concert and for the acts was by Sal Cast and his 10-piece orchestra. Dance music was provided by Don Pierson and his 12-piece orchestra, with vocals by Alex Howe of Highland.

Memorial Service
At 11 o'clock, as is the custom, the dancing paused and impressive memorial services were conducted by the Legionnaires. The preamble to the Legion Constitution was recited by Clarence Brown and a prayer was offered by Captain Andrew E. Hickey, U.S.N., retired, the post chaplain.

Members of the color guard who participated in the ceremony were Sgt. Clarence L. Hyde, Clarence Brown, Leon Cady, Thomas Bohan, Charles Hummer, Jr., Edward Jones, Victor Osborn, Jr., Joseph Sills and Louis Tudor. The service closed with the sounding of Taps, echoed by a muted trumpet.

During the entertainment, Joe Howard sang selections from his show, I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now, including the numbers, Hello, My Baby, and Goodbye, My Baby Love. On the title song, he asked the audience to join in the singing, and the response was exceptional.

Audience Sang
Howard was called back several times to lead the audience in singing such old tunes as Take Me Out to the Ball Game, Let Me Call You Sweetheart, The Band Played On, and On a Bicycle Built for Two.

In the Gay Nineties tradition was an act by The Martels, cyclists, which included a waltz on unicycles performed to the tune of The Band Played On. The Martel brothers announced that they have been playing together in show business for 52 years and told the audience that they performed in Kingston about 35 years ago.

Something different in a trained animal act was presented by Hammond's Elms, featuring a troupe of several cockatoos which rang bells to add sums and did other tricks to the delight of the audience. The featured bird was a cockatoo which its trainer said is 92 years old.

The program was kept moving by the master of ceremonies, Larry Daniels, from the El Morocco in New York city. He also gave several impersonations of movie stars, including a black-face Al Jolson.

John Ford, tenor, rendered several numbers, including two Irish ballads which were well received. He is a recent winner of the Arthur Godfrey Talent Hour.

Greek Commandos Search for McShane

Athens, Nov. 12 (AP) — A Greek commando unit searched the Peloponnese area today for Francis L. McShane, an American abducted by guerrillas Wednesday night.

Wilfred L. Painter, general manager of the Atkinson-Drake-Park contracting firm which employs McShane, left Athens to investigate the abduction.

He said McShane's wife, Marion, lives on South Plank road, Newburgh, N. Y.

McShane, 43, assistant superintendent of road building for the New York firm, was captured with four Greek employees as they passed through a village recently taken by the rebels. The Greek driver of the car was released and reported the abduction.

Dixon dance team, featured in 21 Broadway musical shows, did several tap numbers, including impressionistic dances.

King and Company gave a number of magic tricks including an astounding card trick which was done with the aid of a rifle. Unfortunately, as in magic acts in other halls here, the large size of the auditorium and the large audience lessened the effect of the act for those in the rear half of the hall.

The entertainment was concluded with a dance salute by El Jone and Howard, who recently appeared at the Radio City Music Hall. This act, as did those preceding it, brought good applause from the audience.

Music both for dancing and the entertainment was provided by local musicians. Harry A. Shea of New York city, director of the show, said of the 10-piece show band directed by Sal Cast that it is a pleasure to book entertainment when accompanied by such fine music as provided by that band. Harry Maisenholder was pianist for the Sal Cast orchestra.

Charles H. Gaffney was general chairman of the ball, with Arthur A. Davis, Jr., as co-chairman. Peter Kerevich was in charge of procuring entertainment, with Philip Toffel in charge of the music.

The program committee was headed by Past Commander Thomas Bohan, chairman, and Harold J. Sheehan, co-chairman. Roy E. Jacob headed the decoration and floor committee, while the memorial ceremony was planned by Edward Ludtke, chairman, and Clarence L. Hyde, assistant.

Other committee heads were Commander Donald G. Moore, reception; William A. Thiel, box office; Edward Davis, door; John Waterman and Harry A. Whitney, check rooms; Charles W. Shults, stage; and Herbert K. Greenwald, tickets.

News Stories Need Facts First and Viewpoints Second

Chicago, Nov. 12 (AP) — Intelligent interpretation is needed in news stories, but facts should come first and interpretation second.

That's the suggestion of Coleman A. Harwell of the Nashville Tennessee in speaking yesterday to other news executives attending the annual meeting of Associated Press Managing Editors Association.

The group worked today on how to make news more readable and how to improve feature stories. Supplementing Harwell's comment, J. R. Wiggins of the Washington Post said:

"There has been such a trend in writing on what's going on, to happen that many of us get so far ahead of what has happened that we leave the facts out of sight. In the last election we were oversold by anticipatory comment."

"The editors found they had done their first job well on election night—that of getting the returns fast and accurately through the nationwide tabulations by the Associated Press."

"We have no complaint on the masterly performance by the AP on the way it shot the figures to us," said David Patten of the Providence, R. I., Journal-Bulletin.

Ed Ray of the Tampa, Fla., Times put it this way: "The AP never stuck its neck out in some papers did. It did a good job in getting election coverage back to election facts."

Reviewing pre-election predictions by the managing editors, William P. Steven of the Minneapolis Tribune nominated them all for "the giraffe club" for having "spread their necks out unthinkingly for Dewey in their political prophecy and editorial perspicacity."

John S. Knight, editor and publisher of the Chicago Daily News, entertained the editors at a reception last night. Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of the Chicago Tribune, was the luncheon host.

McCormick told the group that newspaper editors supporting a world government should "see that it is not used to take freedom away from this country."

Such editors, McCormick continued, have the "responsibility" for seeing to it that any world government be used instead "to spread our rights and privileges and ideas all over the world."

McCormick lauded the annual managing editors' meetings as one of AP executive director Kent Cooper's "great ideas" and said they are "a wonderful thing." He added:

"It makes for solidarity of the country—a comprehension of each other's problems which in our exclusiveness in newspaper offices we do not so readily get."

first of its kind since the organization of the Federation. An enjoyable program has been arranged including movies furnished by the New York State Department of Commerce and additional short films.

Various games also will be held including shuffleboard, checkers, darts and ping pong. Light refreshments will be served by the Comforter Men's Club.

Employment Cuts Still Mounting in Northeast Area

(By The Associated Press)
Layoffs in northeastern industry mounted yesterday as six manufacturing plants announced employment cutbacks.

The issuance of some 400 dismissal notices this week was announced by the U. S. Time Corp. at Waterbury, Conn., along with the statement its working force would be cut from August's 3,200 to 1,000 by Jan. 1.

The declaration by company president Joachim Lehmkuhl that union pressure for "ever-increasing wages" would "price our product off the market" drew a union reply that:

"The amount of business done by the corporation this year hardly substantiates your position that you are being priced out of the market."

Two unions represent the company's workers—the Waterbury Watch Workers Union (A.F.L.) and the International Association of Machinists (Indep.).

In White Plains, N. Y., officials of the General Electric Company said production would be cut 50 per cent Nov. 22 because sales have been lagging behind output.

There was no estimate of the number of workers to be affected at the plant, which manufactures kitchen disposal units.

The Indian Motorcycle Company at Springfield, Mass., laid off 250 of its 1,050 employees as of today (Friday), thus reducing its force to one shift.

In Holyoke, Mass., it was estimated 20 per cent of the 1,000 workers at the Worthington Pump and Machinery Corp. would be idled by a layoff.

The Globe plant of the American Woolen Company at Utica, N. Y., announced a ten per cent reduction of its force of 900. The factory makes suit fabrics.

And at Syracuse, N. Y., the L. C. Smith and Corona Typewriter Company ordered a reduction of the work week from five to four days for some 2,000 employees. Officials gave loosened demand for office typewriters as the reason and said they hoped the cutback would be only temporary.

Early Editions Seized
Paris, Nov. 12 (AP)—French police today seized early editions of the Communist newspaper L'Humanite, which assailed their handling of demonstrators in street fighting along the Champs Elysee yesterday. The paper ran a front page picture of the late Gen. Otto von Stuelpnagel, German occupation commander of Paris. The caption read: "Jules Moch I Am Proud of You." Moch is minister of the interior and heads state police.

Still Fashionable
Don't try to lengthen an old fur coat, advise experts. Wear it as is. All lengths, from jackets to three-quarter styles, are fashionable.

FARMERS... ATTENTION!!
YOU CAN NOW OBTAIN A
Only $544.00
Ford TRACTOR
Only $544.00
Yes, we will deliver a new Ford Tractor to you for this amount. You need to pay nothing more for twelve months after. Then you pay only $44.72. Then you pay nothing again until the end of another twelve months when you pay the balance of $44.72. By this method you pay from crops from three years of production. In other words your tractor earns its own payments and you have money left for other purchases. You can do more and better work and have more time for other activities too.

Barring any unforeseen factory shut-downs or production curtailments we can deliver 50 tractors during the next 4 weeks. We also have in stock plows, harrows, cultivators, saw rigs, snow plows, tire chains, etc. Come in and see us for further details now.

Local Man Gets Citation

Frankfurt, Germany, Nov. 5—Eric Bleich (center), of Kingston, N. Y., shown being awarded the Citation of Merit of the American Airlines System for "outstanding devotion to duty while in charge of flight operations during the difficult period of the Frankfurt-Berlin air lift." Bleich, as flight control supervisor of the American Overseas Airlines at Frankfurt's Rhein main airport, is responsible for meteorological and navigational briefing of flight crews, who are engaged in maintaining A.O.A.'s daily passenger and airtight service to the blockaded German capital. Bleich is a professional member of the American Meteorological Society. The presentation of the award and a bronze plaque was made by Nelson David (right), American Overseas Airlines European manager of operations, while T. B. Rodenbaugh (left), A.O.A.'s Frankfurt manager of operations looks on. (A.O.A. Photo)
